DES MOINES – A new council for the League of United Latin American Citizens in Iowa has formed in Storm Lake.

Kristen Shaw
State Secretary

This is the sixth council in the state, and the second to form within the past year.

Toni Robertson
State Treasurer

“We are happy to continue our work to empower the Latino community and create a new LULAC council in an area of the state where we need stronger representation and a stronger voice,” said Joe Enriquez Henry, state director of LULAC of Iowa.

Melissa Walker
State Director for Publicity

Officers for the new council are: Sara Monroy Huddleson, president; Marisol Virgen-Axtell, vice president; Esther Maria Vieira, secretary; and Fernando Saldana, treasurer. The council formed with 12 members.

Mary Campos
Deputy State Director for the Elderly

For more information about the new council, contact Huddleson at 712.730.8383.

Teresa Garcia
Deputy State Director for Women's Activities

Iowa's other LULAC councils are located in Davenport (Quad Cities), Des Moines, Fort Madison, Iowa City and West Des Moines. Efforts are under way to form new councils in Ottumwa, Ames, Mason City, Sioux City and West Liberty.

Antonio Cedillo
Deputy State Director for Youth Activities

Founded in 1929, the League of United Latin American Citizens is the oldest Latino civil rights organization in the United States. There are more than 2 million members in more than 1,000 local LULAC councils, which hold voter registration drives, provide awareness to residents about language and immigration issues, sponsor programs and advocate for Latinos.
