Vice President

DES MOINES – The annual Iowa Latino Leadership Awards Banquet on Saturday will draw the top officials from the national League of United Latin American Citizens.

Mary Campos
President Emeritus

LULAC National President Margaret Moran will attend the event, along with LULAC Executive Director Brent Wilkes.

Brena Corona
Secretary & Chair of Education

“We are honored that President Moran and Executive Director Wilkes will be present to help us celebrate the great achievements of our community and honor those who fight every day to make our state a better place for Latinos,” said Joe Enriquez Henry, state director of LULAC of Iowa.

Araceli Goode
Treasurer

Nathan Blake
Chaplain

The annual awards banquet recognizes Latinos who have made a key difference in the community. LULAC Council 307 will host the event, where a scholarship also will be awarded to a promising young member of the Latino community.

Mitch Henry
Chair of Membership Recruitment

“The achievements of these individuals have made a tremendous difference to the Latino community,” said Jorge Valencia, chairman of the Iowa Latino Leadership Awards Banquet. “These individuals have been pioneers in providing support to the growing Latino community and have empowered them to make a greater difference in Iowa.”

Moran will join state and local elected leaders at a 4 p.m. press conference Saturday to discuss immigration reform, voters’ rights and other issues. In addition, Enriquez Henry will discuss LULAC of Iowa’s efforts in a large voter identification and “get out the vote” effort in the Third Congressional District. The press conference will take place in Iowa Hall B at the Holiday Inn-Airport, 6111 Fleur Drive in Des Moines.

The Iowa Latino Leadership Awards Banquet will begin with a reception at 5:30 p.m. in Iowa Hall A at the Holiday Inn-Airport. Dinner and the awards program will follow. This is a formal event. Black tie is optional.

Table sponsorships are available for $500; advertising sponsorships for $1,000; and event sponsorships for $2,000. Each sponsor will receive 10 dinner tickets and their name printed in the event program. Event sponsors also will be verbally acknowledged during the awards ceremony and will receive a booth during the reception.
